SAINT MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Jacksonville, Florida

Completed 1993

This project involved a total interior renovation as well as the addition of an extra bay at the chancel end of the church to accommodate the new centrally located pipe organ and choir. In order to increase seating capacity and create a more concentric seating arrangement, the transepts were opened and incorporated into the worship space.

We designed all the chancel furnishings, the new lighting, and the case for the new pipe organ. The chancel furnishings are gothic in design, incorporate many hand-carved motifs, and are constructed from quarter-sawn white oak. The chancel floor is inlaid with a variety of different types of marble.

In a previous phase, we designed a parish hall connected to the church with a gothic cloister as shown on the lower photograph to the left of the church as well as a memorial garden.
